Your First Time Brazilian Bikini Wax

By Paton Jackson

First, you must be sure that you want to get a brazilian bikini wax. Consider trying first the standard bikini wax which will remove the hair from your bikini line or the full bikini which will remove most of your pubic hair apart from the most sensitive areas. A brazilian bikini wax removes ALL your pubic hair.

We advice you to get your first brazilian bikini wax by a professional. Many women who try to give themselves a brazilian bikini wax, cause damage and their bikini area looks worse after the brazilian wax.

You could find a salon that offers a brazilian bikini wax in any big US city. Just look in the "Yellow pages" or in any search engine for "brazilian wax" + "name of your city".

After locating a salon, find out how many brazilian waxes they do a week? Make sure that the persons who are responsible for the brazilian bikini wax are experienced. Ask to talk to customers that got a brazilian bikini wax from the same salon.

Open your purse. A brazilian bikini wax may cost up to 100 US dollars. However, the average cost is about 50 bucks. We advice you pay not less than the average price to get a professional treatment.

Come to your scheduled treatment with a good mood after taking a warm shower cleaning your pubic area.

You will get into a separate room or a hole with a curtain. Then you will lie on a bed with your knees up or legs down.

Then, the therapist will trim down your pubic hair with scissors to a length of about a quarter inch.

Afterwards, the real thing will start. The waxer will start the waxing process. He will use a low temperature wax to cause less pain. When the wax cools he will pull it out with your pubic hair. This part is the most painful one. However, the first time is the most painful one. The hair can be pulled out easier in the following times.

The waxer will ask you to get into some weird uncomfortable positions - holding your legs up, to the side and even over your head.

If the waxer is a good one the painful part will end quickly. If you feel it takes too long or that the pain is unbearable, just tell the therapist that you need a little rest.

When the waxing is done a soothing lotion should be applied to the pubic area.

Your bikini area will stay smooth for at least 3 weeks with no maintenance at all. Make the most out of it.

Where Can I Get A Brazilian Wax?

By Paton Jackson

A brazilian bikini wax should be done by and only by professionals. We do not advise to consider giving your self a brazilian bikini wax. Those professional waxers are easy to find. There are people who will come to your house to do the waxing process, but most of the women go to cosmetic salons to get their brazilian bikini wax.

Finding these salons could be done by searching via the web through the yellow pages or through any search engine. Just type "brazilian wax" +"name of the city you live in" in the search engine.

However, the best is to ask your fellow friends. You will be surprised to find out that more than a half of your female friend got a brazilian bikini wax at least once in their life time.

The next step would be choosing the best salon. Make sure that there are brazilian bikini wax experts that work in the salon and that there are no apprentices over there. You would not want someone to do his first time brazilian bikini wax on you.

Check the price of the wax. Do not pay less than 50 bucks or more than 100 bucks for the brazilian bikini wax.

Check the privacy in the salon. Some salons commit the brazilian bikini wax in an open room with a small curtain to separate between you and the rest off the women in the salon. This could be unpleasant if you feel like screaming while getting the painful treatment.

Some women don't like men to be their therapists watching and touching their most private areas. Ask the salon if you can have a woman therapist.

Brazilian bikini wax could be a painful experience but it's worth every moment. Most of the women get addicted to it. Choose the waxing saloon using the above tips. Don't go the first salon you see.
